“The best part of a factory tour...
showing your friend the team’s silverware.”

'Iceman' Kimi Räikkönen stunned motorsport when he was given his debut F1 drive for Sauber in 2001 after competing in just 23 car races. Despite his doubters he took sixth place in his first race and by 2007 he had become Finland's third world champion.

RED AND READY

"Helmet before the race."

Max Verstappen stunned the F1 world on his debut in 2016 with his daring overtaking manoeuvres – some more successful than others – and a glorious first win at his first race for Red Bull Racing in Barcelona. The victory made him the youngest F1 winner at just 18 and he is widely expected to one day become champion.
